Author Warranty, Copyright Assignment, and Open Access License

Please read and complete this warranty; submit one signed copy to the AJA upon provisional acceptance of the article.

This Agreement is made with the American Journal of Archaeology (the “AJA”) and the Archaeological Institute of America (the “AIA”), a District of Columbia Corporation located at 44 Beacon Street, Boston, MA 02108. In consideration of the publication of the Article (the “Article”) submitted by the Authors in the AJA, as well as the publication of any Supplementary Content on the AJA website (www.ajaonline.org), the Authors of the Article agree to the terms and conditions and make the representations and warranties set forth herein.

SECTION A: Copyright Assignment

Each of the Authors hereby assigns to the AIA, during the full term of copyright and any extensions or renewals of that term, all copyright in and to the Article. This includes but is not limited to the rights to publish, republish, transmit, sell, distribute, and otherwise use the Article and the material contained therein in electronic and print editions of the AJA and in derivative works throughout the world, in all languages and in all media of expression now known or later developed, and to license or permit others to do so.

Notwithstanding the above, the Authors retain all proprietary rights other than copyright, such as patent and trademark rights and rights to any process or procedure described in the Article. In addition to these retained rights, the AIA grants back to the Authors a limited license to republish, with a citation to the source of the published Article, all or part of the material from the published Article in oral presentations and future works written or edited by the Authors, including theses, dissertations, and books. The AIA also grants the Authors a limited license to post, with a citation to the source of the published Article, an electronic version of the published Article, in form and content as published by the AIA for publication in the AJA, on their institution’s secure internal network.

SECTION B: Open Access License

In consideration of the open access publication of the Article's Supplementary Content on the AJA website (www.ajaonline.org), the Authors hereby agree to abide by AJA's open access policy and hereby grant a license to publish and reproduce the Supplementary Content under the Creative Commons Attribution-Non-Commercial License ("CC BY-NC"). The Authors understand that, under the terms of CC BY-NC (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc/3.0/>), they retain ownership of copyright of the Supplementary Content, but that anyone can copy, print, extract, reuse, archive, and distribute the Supplementary Content for any legal noncommercial purpose, as long as the appropriate credit is given to the Authors, the AJA, and the AIA.

SECTION C: Representations and Warranties

On his or her own behalf and on behalf of each of the Authors, the Signing Author hereby represents and warrants:

(a) that the Article, and any Supplementary Content, is an original work, has not been published before, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere in its final form either in printed or electronic form;

(b) that the Article, and any Supplementary Content, does not infringe or violate any existing copyright or other third party right, that the Signing Author has obtained permission from any copyright holder to reproduce in the Article and any Supplementary Content (in all media including print and electronic form) material not owned by the Signing Author, and that the source has been acknowledged in the Article, and any Supplementary Content, using, whenever relevant, the precise wording specified by the copyright holder;

(c) that, in the case of first publication of archaeological material, the Signing Author has written permission from excavation directors and/or other relevant authorities to publish this material;

(d) that the Article, and any Supplementary Content, does not contain any material that is libelous, that invades another's right of privacy or publicity, or that is otherwise unlawful;

(e) that the Article, and any Supplementary Content, does not serve as the announcement or initial scholarly presentation of any object in a private or public collection acquired after 30 December 1973, unless its existence is documented before that date or it was legally exported from the country of origin;

(f) that the Article submitted, and any Supplemental Content, has been approved by each of the Authors in the form in which it has been submitted; and

(g) that each of the Authors of the Article, and any Supplementary Content, has reviewed this Agreement, agrees to its terms, conditions, and representations, and warranties and has authorized the Signing Author to enter into this Agreement on their behalf.

The Signing Author agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the AJA and the AIA against all claims and expenses (including legal costs and expenses) arising from any breach of the above warranties and representations.

SECTION D: Miscellaneous

The AIA will provide to the Signing Author one e-print of the Article to be distributed according to the terms of use stipulated by the AIA. Hard copy reprints of the Article are available for purchase by the Authors (minimum order of 25).

In any publication of the Article, the AJA or any licensee shall refer to the Authors as the authors of the Article, and the AJA may use or authorize the use of any Author's names and pertinent biographical data in connection with the advertising or promotion of any publication of the Article.

This Agreement shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, applicable to agreements made and performed entirely therein. The provisions of this Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the Authors, the AJA, and the AIA, and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns.
